Attention graphic artists, Gamers, programmers and fun-lovers! There are 8 distinct tracks for this year's event in San Jose, CA, U.S.A. on March 4-8: Audio, Business and Legal, Game Design, General Interest, IGDA, Production, Programming, and the Visual Arts.

Jam packed with products, classes, keynotes, demonstrations, tutorials and games there is plenty for all. This is my third conference. I'll be looking for the latest in graphics cards and I plan to be awed. Motion capture products are always fun...am looking forward to checkout Essential Reality's latest version of "The Glove" that debuted at the show in 2001.

Dates:

March 4-8, Conference

March 6-8, Expo

Water-Cooled PC

In the category of toys " for the hard-core PC enthusiasts, power-users, over-clockers, and DIYers" DIRECTRON rolled out their water-cooled PC for the Int'l Consumer Electronics Show, 2003.

This is also the distributor for texture-mapped computer cases by Case Arts featured in the Jan. issue of Digital Times.

Wireless 2.4 GHz Security Camera

my FAVORITES

Security systems for the home were VERY BIG at this year's Consumer Electronics Show. It's pretty cool to be able to view objects in any room, day or night. This model by Powerline Industries Ltd. is ideal for this purpose as it has "Viewing in The Dark" operation and PIR. Great for the baby's room, too, with its built-in microphone for audio monitoring. Powerline has equipped their camera with 6 infra-red LEDs. The wireless camera connects to any device with PAL/NTSC video input including TV, VCR or monitor. Installation is easy--no cables, so you can move the camera from room to room, as you wish.

Other features:

- * Remote Anti-theft alarm at receiver when camera is tampered with.
- * Auto recording of intruder image & audio signal on pre-set VCR.
- * Supports NTSC video standard.
- * Adjustable antenna for best performance.
- * Four wireless channels available for multiple camera configuration.
- * Product size: Camera-72mm (D) X 64mm (W) X102mm (H).
- * Receiver-102mm (D) X 102mm (W) x41mm (H).

Artista 200E 'Smart Device' sewing machine by Bernina!

Sewing will never be the same, with this digital model powered by Windows CE, Microsoft's operating system for non-PC devices. With it, you can download stitch patterns from the InterNet! It has built-in support for USB, PCMCIA . CD-ROM capability allows you to add new software and designs for smooth upgrading.

The large video screen makes it easy to view tutorials and help documents. "The Artista 200E is the first authentic sewing computer," said Martin Favre, Bernina of America president. Pricing and availability will be announced later. Bernina URL Here
